Outreach and Updates

Cost-Effective Targeting of High-Risk Montana Visitors

This fall, 19,454 Don't Move Firewood postcards were sent to high risk, out-of-state visitors to Montana – namely, non-resident hunting licensees. Since 2009, the partnership among Don't Move Firewood, Montana DNRC Forestry Division, and Montana Fish Wildlife and Parks has educated more than 500,000 people. In 2013, postcards were sent to almost all of the lower 48 states, while in other years, postcards have only gone to residents of federally quarantined zip codes. Read more about this partnership.

HO! HO! HO!

Happy Holidays! Wait, it's not December yet? Not even Halloween?! Lucky for you, it's never too early to start working on your winter and holiday messaging. Take a look at our "Stock Up on Wood for Winter" press release, our "Holiday Greenery" press release, or just head straight to the Don't Move Firewood Holiday Greenery page.

No Newsletter in December

We will issue a November edition of Firewood Outreach Professional News, skip December, and be back in your inbox in January 2014! This allows for a balanced budget for the year and gives everyone a holiday break. Submit your stories for November and January right now so that you are included before our short break!

In The News

We did it! The 2013 firewood master list of state education and regulation websites is ready. This year was crazy, with a lot of new infestations, links and regulations coming into existence. You can either download the master PDF, or go to our state-by-state map and click on your state.

Don't Move Firewood Campaign

Crazy Skier Dude Does NOT Move Firewood

Winter is coming, and we have great content for you to share on your Facebook and Twitter networks. Check out the hilarious "Ski Bro Talk Trees" by Glen Plake or the more straight-laced "Glen Plake Skiing for the Trees." Add them to your queue and use them to remind your audiences how important the Don't Move Firewood message is, even in winter!
