

Outreach and Updates

Tree Check Month is August, right now!

Editor's note: the Tree Check story last month was the most popular item in the history of this newsletter - 812 downloads! August is only halfway through, so these resources are still highly useful. For your convenience, here is a reprint:

During August, the USDA asks folks to take 10 minutes to check trees for the Asian longhorned beetle (ALB). Your organization can help by encouraging the public to proactively check trees this time of year — early detection can lessen the impact from Asian longhorned beetle on the infested area. To learn more about Tree Check Month, check out the engaging Tree Check Infographic, download the popular ALB Hunt and Tree Guide Worksheet or visit Asianlonghornedbeetle.com.

Considering a Firewood Scout related Farm Bill 10007 Suggestion?

Are you thinking about submitting a Farm Bill 10007 suggestion related to joining the Firewood Scout vendor listing website in 2016? This Friday, August 14th 2015, at noon Eastern, we'll be hosting a webinar to talk about reasonable expectations for your staff time, funding, and state roles for incoming Firewood Scout states. ## Infestations and Regulations

Spotted Lanternfly's death count rises

The Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture's cooperative effort to control their new spotted lanternfly infestation is impressive. According to their website, they've killed 106,318 lanternflies with sticky tree bands and another 25,800 lanternflies with egg mass scraping. That's over 132,118 dead lanternflies in just one year! To learn all about this effort and about the pest itself, please visit the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Plant Industry, Spotted Lanternfly page.

Gypsy moths are depositing egg masses right now

This is the perfect time of year to remind the public to look for (and destroy) gypsy moth egg cases on their lawn furniture, RVs, lawn art, and... really, any stationary object left outside in late summer and early fall. You should NOT be telling people to inspect their firewood for egg cases before they move — because they shouldn't be moving firewood in the first place! But definitely tell the public this is the season for gypsy moth egg cases on all sorts of other materials.

Don't Move Firewood Campaign

Firewood Scout adds Wisconsin and Tennessee

Firewood Scout is a simple firewood vendor mapping website that was started by the Southeast Michigan Resource Conservation and Development Council and has now expanded to be ready to take any willing and able states that wish to list their firewood vendors. In the last few months, Michigan has been joined by California, Wisconsin, and Tennessee. The Firewood Scout working group is now actively recruiting more states for inclusion in late 2015 or early 2016.
