

Firewood Month 2026 Starts Tomorrow!

Firewood Month Break Down

Firewood Month (October) kicks off TOMORROW! Firewood Month is our jiggy jiggy jam. Join us as we celebrate the time of year when temperatures cool, leaves change, and tons of people venture outdoors; many get firewood for recreation, many others are buying or gathering it in preparation for the colder months ahead. Each week in October has a different optional theme, making educational messages tailored to the different audiences that use firewood. Learn more about Firewood Month here and feel free to download our free toolkit if you're looking for an easy way to schedule out messages and/or graphics promoting responsible firewood practices!

We welcome any participation throughout the month of October to raise awareness on the firewood pathway, however if you'd like to mix it up with us throughout the month, the weekly themes this year are as follows:

Week 1 (Oct 1 - 10): General Information, webinar promotion, and press releases. This week overlaps with Fire Prevention Week, so we'll do cross-promotion with general fire safety as well.

Week 2 (Oct 11 - 17): Target fall recreationists—especially groups like campers, hunters, anglers, and RV owners.

Week 3 (Oct 18 - 24): Focus on protecting forest health and the important role firewood plays as a forest product. This overlaps with National Forest Products Week in the USA.
